The Ann Arbor

O. PALM, P. EDITOR & PROPRIETOR
THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1888.

Entered at the Post Office at Grayling, Mich., as second-class matter, May 1, 1887.

FOUNDRY AND MISCELLANEOUS.

"The Democrats don't like Cleveland worth a cent, but all the same they sneeze when he takes snuff."

General Sheridan, who has been quite sick, is reported to be improving and in a fair way to entirely recover.

Blaine has written another letter in which he emphatically and unequivocally refuses to allow his name to be used at Chicago in connection with the nomination. Hurra for Alger!

The Democratic governor of Kentucky, General Breckner, ex-confederate, vetoed the bill making Decoration day a legal holiday. The legislature then passed it over his veto.

More democratic diabolism. An Augusta, Me. special says that the residence of J. G. Blaine was broken into and all his political and business correspondence overhauled, and a portion of it abstracted.

Another one of the faithful has been provided for by the appointment of Patrick Carney, an ex-justice of the peace of Bay City, as an assistant in the office of the register of the land office.

Democrats are very much afraid that "Ingalls made a mess of it." When a man, either in Congress or not, undertakes to stir up democratic history from 1859 to '65 he needs a long stick. It is not a pleasant job either for speaker or audience. —Inter-Ocean.

The two facts should not be forgotten that in Ohio, where the Democrats have no hope of success this fall, their state convention gave the Mills bill an indorsement, while in New York, which is a debatable state, they did not dare indorse it in their platform, and the committee on Resolutions voted down the large majority a resolution of that tenor. —Blade.

The sending of the Democratic ball lot-box stuffers at Indianapolis to the postoffice has greatly improved the Republican chances there. If Cleveland really has abandoned the idea of having Gray for a running mate, and proposes to take Dickinson instead, it means that he thinks it will be easier to capture Michigan's electoral vote than Indiana's. —Blade.

The Springfield (Mass.) Union says that the Republican party has done more this year for temperance in Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania than to mention other states, "than third party Prohibitionists have ever accomplished, or give any signs of accomplishing in years to come." And that is the truth!

Well, She'll Have Him. Once more the good old ship of state is signaling the fort. Her four years' cruise is almost done; it's coming to anchor. With national unity and under one government, she needs a new commander. —Chicago Tribune.

In Florida the license question has got down pretty close to the prohibition basis. The man who wants a license must get 300 signatures to his application, publish the list in a county newspaper, go before the court and have his character inquired into, then, if it approves his application, pay a license fee of $450, which is divided equally between the town, county and state. With this guarantee to run, life to the saloon-keeper in Florida must be pretty nearly a burden. —Bay City Tribune.

Slavery is to be abolished unconditionally and immediately in Brazil. It had already been completely extinguished in certain provinces, and to a considerable extent in all the rest. Brazil was fortunate enough to have no question of state rights or any sectional division in dealing with her slavery question. She also had the influence and the impetus of the example of the rest of the western world to help her on. With the consummation of the Brazilian abolition, slavery will be extinct on the American continent, and its unconditional abolition has already been decreed in Cuba and Porto Rico. —Blade.

Michigan is a representative northern state. South Carolina is a representative southern state. Michigan elects eleven congressmen. South Carolina elects seven. Both states elected congressmen in 1886. In Michigan it took on an average of 34,056 votes to elect a congressman. In South Carolina an average of 5,566 votes accomplished a like result. Why this difference? Because the republican vote of South Carolina is suppressed. It is the same old spirit of aristocracy that has always dominated the south, and which to-day is gradually shaping the policy of this nation. —Anti-Slavery Reporter.

WASHINGTON LETTER

[From Our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, May 25, '88.

"General Phil. Sheridan has had a paralytic stroke," was the terrible rumor that flew over this city with lightning rapidity on Wednesday. Every man you met stopped and asked with bated breath, "Have you heard from 'Little Phil'?" Careful inquiry revealed the fact that the gallant little General had been sick, but fortunately it was nothing very serious. It seems that in returning from his recent trip West, he was for four or five days traveling continuously, and it had a bad effect upon his nerves, which was aggravated by a week's hard work in his office here. The consequence was that he had to go to bed. He is now much better, and will probably be out again in a few days. It would have been quite flattering to the General if he could have heard the many inquiries after his health that your correspondent did on Wednesday and Thursday.

When the Mills tariff bill comes up under the five minute rule, to be considered by sections, which will probably be next week, the republicans will endeavor to amend it in many ways. In the meantime the republican leaders hope to agree on a bill which will be offered as a substitute for the Mills bill, but the present prospects of any such agreement are by no means flattering.

There will probably be a new member of the Cabinet before long, as the Senate committee on agriculture has made a favorable report on the bill, which has already passed the House, to enlarge the duties of the Department of Agriculture and make it an Executive Department. The bill, as it passed the House, provided for the transfer of the weather bureau to the Department of Agriculture. The Senate committee struck that clause out.

The House bill to establish a Department of Labor has been passed by the Senate slightly amended.

Senators Palmer, of Michigan, and Manderson, of Nebraska, have been selected as the orators for Memorial Day, at the Arlington National Cemetery.

Strange as it may appear, it is nevertheless true that the question of whether the Fisheries treaty shall be considered by the Senate, in open or secret sessions, has been made a political one. The republicans voted for open sessions and the democrats for secret ones.

The nomination of Mr. Fuller to be Chief Justice of the United States was discussed by the Senate Judiciary committee at its regular meeting on Monday, but at the request of Senator Ingalls, action was postponed.

The Senate committee to investigate violations of the Civil Service law in New York this week. Next week they will go to Baltimore.

The instand that was used by the late Senator Conkling on his office desk ever since he began to practise law in New York City, has been sent to a gentleman in this city, who prizes it very highly as a memento of the dead statesman.

The greedy policy adopted by ex-Senator Mahone, of Virginia, has resulted in a split in the republican party in that State, which will make Virginia almost certain to go democratic this year. With Mahone out of the way, the "Old Dominion" would be a republican State.

The Republicans are enjoying the wrangling among the democratic politicians for the honor of filling the second place on the ticket with Cleveland. Much of the wire pulling is done in this city. Illinois alone has three candidates, each one of whom is ready to knife the other at every opportunity. They are Gen. Black, Commissioner of Pensions; Assistant Postmaster General Stevenson, and ex-Congressman and Interstate Commerce Commissioner W. R. Morrison.

The corner stone of the new Catholic University in this city, was laid on Thursday, Gen. Rosecrans, himself a zealous Catholic, being master of ceremonies. Ten thousand invitations had been issued to visitors who came to attend the exercises and join the great procession of Catholic organizations, priests, bishops, archbishops, etc. All of the ceremonies were to take place out of doors, and every detail had been arranged with great completeness, but the rain poured down in torrents.

Senator Stanford and wife have gone to Europe in search of health.

The Senate has increased the Rivers and Harbor Appropriation about $1,500,000, and has inserted $400,000 for the Potomac Flats.

A Warning.

The methods of death's approach are various, and statistics show conclusively that more persons die from diseases of the Throat and Lungs than from any other. It is probable that everyone, without exception, receives vast numbers of Tubercle Germs into the system and where these germs fall upon suitable soil they start into life and develop, at first slowly and then shown by a slight tickling sensation in the throat and if allowed to continue their ravages they extend to the lungs, producing Consumption and to the head, causing Catarrh. Now all this is dangerous and if allowed to proceed will in time cause death. At the onset you must act with promptness; allowing a cold to go without attention is dangerous and may lose you your life. As soon as you feel that something is wrong with your Throat, Lungs or Nostrils, obtain a bottle of Bosche's German Syrup. It will give you immediate relief.

The Democrats in congress begin to hedge on pensions. They would like to take the soldiers' names off the pension list and put wool and other foreign competing products on the free list. They have a good deal more consideration for the foreign producer and manufacturer than they have for the Union soldier. —Detroit Tribune.

Cleveland will go to St. Louis the only democratic candidate for nomination. All opponents have been ruthlessly crushed by the iron hand of the administration. Democratic congressmen who did not support free wool as promulgated by Cleveland have been notified that those who were not friends were foes, and their influence in making appointments, so dear to every member, and so necessary to the political life of many of them has been negated, and in every way opposition has been choked off, so that Cleveland is to-day the master rather than the leader of his party. —Detroit Tribune.

Major McKinley, in his speech in the House, Friday, brought out the fact that President Cleveland has been buying blankets for the United States army of English manufacturers, instead of purchasing them in the United States. The United States manufacturers bid below the English price with the tariff added, but by buying in England, and not paying any tariff, the Administration got them a few cents cheaper, and so sent the money of the American taxpayers over to Europe, to furnish work and wages over there, rather than employ American workmen. Major McKinley very truly said that it is the duty of the American Government to get its work done by American workmen. But this is a "reform" Administration, and "so English, you know." —State Republican.

Tom Reed's speech reduced the friends of the Mills bill to the logical necessity of confessing that the bill was only the first step in the direction of free trade. That, although most of the advocates of the bill have uttered it, is the plain meaning of it. It cannot be defended on any other ground. Every argument used in its support is an argument for complete commercial freedom. The mere necessity of cutting down the surplus and reducing revenue does not justify it; for those purposes can be accomplished just as easily by increasing as by decreasing duties, and unless the protection system is assumed to be foolish, unjust and oppressive, that is the way to accomplish them. Yet the democrats keep right on disavowing any free trade intentions, and assuring everybody that nothing could be further from their minds. —Detroit News.

Senator Voorhees not only merited the castigation that he received at the hands of Senator Ingalls but he merits also the contempt of all men for resorting to cowardly falsehood. He denied facts concerning his own personal record which cannot be set aside or lied away, and some of the sharpest criticisms of his cowardly conduct in the senate are found in his own party press which speaks for the solid south.

The Nashville American, in the course of some pertinent remarks on the subject, says: "The protestations and denials of Senator Voorhees, that he made speeches sympathizing with the south in 1861, by thinking people will be regarded as an impolitic evasion of the fact. That he was an out-and-out sympathizer with the south—as much so as Vallandigham—is a matter of history, and besides, the letter which he admits he wrote shows it. Then his statements are an evasion, and impolitic at that."

This may be accepted as the popular view of the matter among the Democrats of the south. They regard his crawling in the senate as cowardly and humiliating. —Detroit Tribune.
